

MEDICAL INSURANCE CODING and Billing Specialist Program

The Medical Insurance Coding and Billing at Integrity College of Health prepares students with the knowledge and skills competencies for the accurate maintenance of patient medical records.

Employment of Medical Insurance Coding and Billing Specialists is projected to grow 11% from 2018 to 2028*, faster than the average for all occupations.

As a Medical Insurance Coding and Billing Specialist, you will prepare various health claim forms using medical billing software. Your daily tasks might include accurately interpreting medical records, including diagnoses and procedures of health care providers, as well as documenting and coding the information for submission to insurance companies.

Accreditation & Approval
